

TEACHER TRAINING SHOWCASE

Online Degrees

THAT STAND THE TEST OF TIME

UMassOnline gives you the flexibility to further your education at home, at work or anywhere by enrolling in accredited, online University of Massachusetts degrees and certificates:

- M.Ed. in Educational Administration
- M.Ed. for Science Teachers
- M.Ed. in Counseling:
Mental Health Counseling
- M.Ed. in Counseling: School Guidance
- Graduate Certificate in Instructional Technology Design
- Developing Standards-Based Classrooms
for All Learners through the Adapting Curriculum Frameworks Graduate Certificate

Visit
www.UMassOnline.net
today to get started!

UMassOnline provides a convenient alternative to classroom learning, delivering high quality programs over the Web. Is online education right for you? Here are some questions to ask: Is online learning a credible alternative to classroom learning? Yes, it is if it is done with the University of Massachusetts. UMassOnline provides quality programs and solid credentials. Online programs are taught by UMass' world-class faculty and there is excellent interaction between faculty and students.

Will an "online degree" have the same value as a campus-based one? Absolutely. Degrees are granted by the UMass campus that offers your program. There is no distinction between a degree earned online and one earned on campus. Do I need to be a computer whiz? No! UMassOnline uses Internet-based programs and standard browsers that can be used by anyone who can use email and surf the web. For more information, visit www.UMassOnline.net.

GWs, nationally accredited, Graduate School of Education and Human Development is ranked among the best in the nation by both superintendents and university personnel, and has long standing partnerships with some of the best public school systems in the country. Located in the nation's capital, GW's focus includes Master's level training designed for Arts and Sciences graduates interested in teaching careers or persons from other careers interested in transitioning into teaching. Programs are also available in Educational Policy, Museum Education, International Education and School Counseling. Substantial scholarships are available for students interested in pursuing careers in Elementary, Secondary and Special Education.

VISIT

WWW.NEWSWEEKCLASSIFIED.COM/TEACH

FOR MORE INFORMATION ON THE FEATURED SCHOOLS AS WELL AS EDITORIAL FROM NCATE* ON HOW TO PURSUE A CAREER IN EDUCATION.

*NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR ACCREDITATION OF TEACHER EDUCATION

TO ADVERTISE CALL: 212 968 0196 EXT.210 OR EMAIL NEWSWEEK@MONGOOSEINC.COM

TEACHER TRAINING SHOWCASE

Fordham University's Graduate School of Education is recognized

nationally as a leader in the professional development of teachers, counselors, psychologists and administrators - among other educators. Fordham's approach combines theory with reflective and innovative practice to meet the changing needs of a multilingual, multicultural urban environment.

Informed by the Jesuit tradition of education, the school maintains high standards of scholarship and Fordham's educational programs emphasize concern for students' individual heritage and respect the multiple voices of the urban classroom. Fordham offers flexible scheduling and two convenient campuses, Lincoln Center in Manhattan, and the Westchester campus in Tarrytown, New York.

Call 212-636-6400, ext.33 or visit www.fordham.edu/gse

CHANGE LIVES – START WITH YOUR OWN

Fordham can start you on the road to a fulfilling career in education with one of 40+ master's and doctoral options in Curriculum and Teaching, School Leadership or Psychology.

Only NYC Institution with NCATE national accreditation Recipient of the first-ever U.S. Dept. of Education National Award for Effective Teacher Preparation Nationally ranked by U.S. News & World Report in 2002

212-636-6400, ext. 33
www.fordham.edu/gse

Since 1909, Lesley University has been one of the nation's premier providers of graduate education to teachers. As a US News & World Report 'top tier' regional university, Lesley delivers graduate programs to teachers at more than 150 sites in 18 states. More classroom educators earn their Master's Degrees from Lesley than from any other university, because at the heart of every one of its innovative degree programs is a conviction that teaching and learning matter.

Hands-on and practical for today's teaching challenges, a Lesley degree will renew your love of the classroom experience. Become the difference at Lesley University!

For more information visit www.newsweekclassified.com/teach

The George Washington University Graduate School of Education and Human Development
 Washington, D.C.

Call: 202-994-6160
 800-449-7343
 email: jshots@gwu.edu
www.gwu.edu/~gspe/

[change]
 your VIEW of the future

Preparing Arts and Sciences Graduates, and Career Changers
 for Teaching in Elementary, Secondary and Special Education Classrooms since 1965. GWU is an Equal Opportunity Institution.

Lesley University School of Education

Master of Education degrees:

- Creative Arts in Learning
- Curriculum and Instruction with specializations in:
 Conflict Resolution and Peaceable Schools
 Early Childhood Education
 English as a Second Language
 Literacy: Language, Reading, and Writing
 Teaching, Learning, and Assessment

- Science in Education (online only)
- Technology in Education (also online)

Inspiring excellence in education for more than 90 years

For more information:
 (877) 4LESLEY
info@mail.lesley.edu
www.lesley.edu/national

VISIT WWW.NEWSWEEKCLASSIFIED.COM/TEACH